

An Introduction to the Newman Money Museum

Presented by Tom Serfass, Curator

This presentation is part of the 2011 Lecture Series sponsored by CCF History. The program is offered at no charge and it is open to the public.

Wednesday, March 16
7:00 PM

Get to know the Eric P. Newman Money Museum. This is your chance to learn about the museum and its collections from the curator, Tom Serfass.

Center of Clayton
50 Gay Avenue
Clayton, MO 63105

The 3,000-square-foot Newman Money Museum, housed within the Mildred Lane Kemper Art Museum located on the campus of Washington University, features items drawn from Newman's renowned collection as well as a numismatics library and workspace for scholars. Displays survey the history of coins and paper money from their beginnings and to the present day, as well as the relationship between money, society, culture and commemoration and related issues such as production, inflation and counterfeiting.

The presentation on March 16 will look at colonial paper money and the legacy of Benjamin Franklin, a central figure in the development of American Colonial paper money. Tom Serfass will also discuss Missouri money and its history.

CLAYTON CENTURY
FOUNDATION

enriching our community, honoring our past

www.claytonhistorysociety.org

